

WINSTONS SUCCEED IN LECKY SUIT

Appellate Division Affirms Order of Justice Morschauer Upholding Referee's Report—Was Notable Case Here.

Winston and Company have again succeeded in the $600,000 law suit brought against them by James D. Lecky, the appellate division at Albany on Wednesday having unanimously affirmed with costs the order of Judge Morschauer made in March, 1918, refusing to set aside the report of the Hon. Marcus T. Hun, the referee, before whom the case was tried, and to vacate the judgment in favor of the Winstons entered upon his report. Mr. Hun was appointed referee by the consent of Rockwood and Haldane of New York, Senator Edgar T. Brackett of Saratoga, who represented the plaintiff Lecky, and that of Judge Clearwater, counsel for the Winstons. When the trial began counsel for Lecky suggested that the referee's fees be $40 a day, in addition to his expenses and the fees of the stenographer. The case was tried at great length at the court house in this city, witnesses being brought here from Richmond, Chicago, Boston and other distant places. There were 2527 pages of stenographer's minutes. After a most exhaustive consideration the referee decided in favor of the Winstons, and dismissed Lecky's complaint. Judgment was entered in favor of the Winstons against Lecky for $7,526.52 costs. His attorneys appealed to the appellate division.

Winstons Sated Bank

When the case came to be made up for printing for the consideration of the Appellate Division, it was apparent that the referee would be compelled to spend several days in determining the difference between counsel as to what should be printed. Lecky's attorneys insisting that only part of the evidence should be printed, Judge Clearwater insisting that it should be printed in its entirety, especially those parts of it which showed that Lecky had loaned the funds of the Ashokan National Bank, of which he was president, to himself, his wife, his relatives and his wife's relatives, and that had it not been that the Winstons advanced the money to cover the losses sustained by the bank in consequence of those loans, the comptroller of the currency would have put the bank in the hands of a receiver.

RIENGLER SAYS HE'S NOT GUILTY

Arrested Wednesday Night on Complaint of His Wife, who Charges Him with Deserting Her and Three Small Children—Hearing Saturday.

Wednesday Mrs. Robert C. Riengler of No. 20 Ann street, swore out a warrant for the arrest of her husband on a charge of deserting her and their three small children, the oldest of whom is eight years. Mrs. Riengler claims her husband, who during last summer worked on a local postcard, had deserted her in August.

She gave information to the police that afternoon that led to the arrest of her husband who was found in a house on Hasbrouck avenue. He had been working in Hoboken, according to his wife, but came up to see a friend.

This morning in police court Riengler, when arraigned before Judge Schrick entered a plea of not guilty, and in default of $500 bail was lodged in the county jail until Saturday morning when a hearing will be held.

The hearing promises to be interesting as Mrs. Riengler claims that a local woman is to blame for her husband deserting her.

NEWSPAPER "ADS" BEST

Thinks Auto Show Committee—Drop Pan Problem Solved, Not So, Dress Suits.

The Automobile Show executive committee decided at its meeting Wednesday to spend no more money on advertising the show in any way but for space in the newspapers. After a full discussion the dealers decided that from their experience they would get more returns from newspaper advertising than in any other way. From now until the show, March 12, 14 and 15, they mean to make this sum.

The drip pan problem was solved by leaving it up to each exhibitor to furnish his own pans with a recommendation that no pan be used. Mr. Willard having tested a certain kind of this material by covering it with the oiliest kind of oil he could think of and finding that the oil did not leak through.

The only real problem was solved by leaving it up to each exhibitor to furnish his own pans with a recommendation that no pan be used. Mr. Willard having tested a certain kind of this material by covering it with the oiliest kind of oil he could think of and finding that the oil did not leak through.

NAVIGATION NOTES ALONG RIVER FRONT

The Catskill Evening Line freighter Storm King will make its first down trip from Catskill on Sunday, March 16, marking the opening of navigation between Catskill and New York.

The ferry between Hudson and Albany was expected to resume regular trips Wednesday.

At the Central-Hudson Line office this morning it was stated that nothing had been heard as yet from the red cross office as to when the other boats would be put into commission. The steamer Puget Sound has run all winter, leaving Kingston for New York three days a week.

The river is wide open between Troy and New York, and the only thing that is holding up navigation is lack of business. None of the Cornell Line tugs have been placed in commission as yet. There are about thirty tugs berthed in the Rondout creek, where they have spent the winter.

At the Island Dock shipyard the big ship Catskill is practically completed and it is expected she will be launched some time in the near future. Tuesday afternoon about twenty-five of the men were laid off.

At the other shipyards along the creek a number of barges are under construction.

COULDN'T REMOVE BULLET.

Harry Van Etten Is Operated On In Kingston City Hospital.

Harry Van Etten of Barclay Heights, Saugerties, is in the Kingston City Hospital. On Sunday Dr. George F. Chandler, assisted by Dr. John C. Kamp, operated on him.

About fourteen years ago Van Etten was shot and the bullet imbedded in his forehead. An X-ray revealed the position of the bullet and after the incision was made by Dr. Chandler it was found impossible to remove the bit of lead which imbedded a certain nerve, without endangering Van Etten's life, and it was left in his position, the doctor being of the opinion it might gradually work itself near the surface and then be taken out without fatal results. When Dr. Chandler attempted to remove the bullet, Van Etten's heart action ceased and as soon as he set, the heart action became normal. It is a peculiar case.—Saugerties Post.

BIG FIVE RESUMES TERMS DISCUSSION

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, March 6.—Premier Lloyd George having arrived, the big five, sitting as the supreme war council, was today able to resume discussion of military and naval terms for Germany.

The fate of the German fleet, now interned at Scapa Flow (off the coast of Scotland) is now due to come up for discussion.

The proposal to sink the German fleet has so far emanated from the British naval men. But they have had considerable support from American experts.

The German battleships that were surrendered are, in such bad condition that each would require about $1,000,000 worth of repairs to make it fit for use.

The quarrel between the Italians and the Yugoslavs is being slowly patched up. It was announced that the frontier between Trieste and Tervis which Italy closed after the ejection of the Italian military mission from Laibach, is again open.

KEENEY THEATRE OPENING PROGRAM

Includes "Infatuation" With Gaby Deslys, Comedy, News and Travel Pictures in Addition to Singers.

Frank A. Keeney announces from his offices in New York city the opening bill on Friday evening at his new theater here. Incidentally, the first night will be signified by turning over the entire receipts to the Ulster County Chapter of the Red Cross, and the occasion will be further distinguished by the presence of a body of New York theatrical notables and first nighters.

The principal photoplay attraction will be Gaby Deslys, the famous French actress, in "Infatuation," which was recently completed in Paris with much preliminary exploitation. On its presentation in Paris, this photoplay, which runs along sensational lines, commanded an attention of such a scale as to win international renown. Miss Deslys, who is cast to excellent advantage, is assisted by her American dancing partner, Harry Bliker, "and a million dollars worth of clothes," as one critic puts it. Enhancing the interest of Miss Deslys' appearance in pictures is her recent success in the legitimate Folies Bergere, in Paris.

Aside from Miss Deslys and her undisputed histrionic achievements, "Infatuation" is a picture that possesses all the elements of success. While the subject borders on the sensational and the scenes at times may excite a gulp in the throat, there is nothing about the production that overplays the bounds of good taste.

The program in addition to "Infatuation" will include a liberal and varied assortment of first-run features, including a comedy film, a news weekly, a travel picture and other offerings that go to make up a lengthy program in which quality is the dominant key.

The musical portion of the entertainment will draw upon an orchestra of qualified symphony players, directed by Gus Hoyer.

Emil Kuehn, formerly the organist of the First Baptist Church, will give a fifteen minutes' recital on the new $10,000 pipe organ, which is represented as a wonderful instrument.

Natalie Jacus, soprano, and Mr. Seales, baritone, will sing a number of classical and popular numbers.

On Saturday Mr. Keeney has arranged to present the great Russian player, Nazimova, in her recent screen triumph, "Tears of Fate," a big seven reel, which comes with the indelible stamp of metropolitan approval.

KEENEY TICKET HOLDERS

Should Exchange Them If For Left Side of Theater.

Owing to a slight error in the diagram of the Keeney Theater, prepared for the Red Cross performance Friday evening, the management requests those holding tickets for the left side of the auditorium call at the box office at their earliest convenience and have them exchanged. In doing this promptly the error will be corrected and confusion avoided at the evening of the show.

The box office will be open until 10 o'clock this evening for the accommodation of patrons.

IN THE SERVICE OF OUR COUNTRY

John J. Campbell has been released from active service in the Naval Reserves and returned to his home on St. James street Tuesday. Campbell was stationed at Pelham Bay.

Mrs. Cornelia Cramer of East Chester street has received word of the safe arrival of her son, Private Stephen Cramer, of the 31st Field Signal Battalion, from overseas. Private Cramer is now stationed at Camp Jackson, South Carolina.

Private Frederick Burton formerly of Co. B, 52d Infantry has arrived home after receiving his honorable discharge from the service. He is staying at his mother's, Mrs. M. H. Crane's, 55 Hasbrouck avenue. He has many wonderful stories to tell of the war and Germany.

Cornelius DuMond, of the town of Ulster, who is a member of Exemption Board, No. 2, received a telegram this morning from his son, Private Raymond DuMond, a member of the 68th Coast Artillery, notifying him that he has arrived in New York from overseas and was being transferred to Camp Dix.

Miss Cynthia Lowe and Mrs. Charles C. Beaver of Esopus are rejoicing over the return from overseas of their niece, Miss Edith Lowe, of Port Ewen. Miss Lowe rendered very efficient service as a Red Cross nurse, having had charge of an operating room in one of the hospitals in France. She arrived in New York on Friday of last week and came to Port Ewen to visit her mother, Mrs. Edith Lowe, on Saturday. As she enlisted in the service from Albany, where she had served as trained nurse in a hospital for several years before going overseas, she will return to Albany to be mustered out of service again.

Esopus, March 6.—S. E. Mott and family gave a reception to Louis C. Goodrich in Esopus Hall on Friday evening, February 28. Over eighty guests were present, nearly all from this village and West Park. Also Miss Lucetta Fraleigh of Red Hook, Miss Beatrice Mott of Newburgh and William Myers of Elizabeth New Jersey. From 9 o'clock until 10 the guests engaged in dancing; then vocal and instrumental music occupied some time. At 11:20 refreshments were served. By this time Rev. J. J. Lyons had arrived and gave a very cordial address to welcome Mr. Goodrich home again from overseas. The date also being the anniversary of Mr. Goodrich's birthday. Rev. Lyons was handed a beautiful birthday cake, tastefully trimmed with ferns and small silk flags, to present to Mr. Goodrich. The date of birth and the present year was also engraved on the cake. During his speech the pastor said: This birthday is being celebrated in a decidedly different manner from the one of last year, for then our guest of honor was at the front receiving medals and shells, making very exciting times for a while. We are very glad he is home and is safe home once more. Mr. Goodrich was the first man to enlist from Esopus and left here in May, 1917, for that purpose. On November 1st of the same year he was at the front. He attained the rank of corporal and wears upon his sleeve two gold chevrons for service, and one red, showing that he has received an honorable discharge. When the guests were apprised of the fact that it was Mr. Goodrich's birthday they gave three rousing cheers and wished him many happy returns of the day. The hall was graciously decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting, and from the four corners of the room were festooned red, white and blue crepe paper with long streamers floating from the center, where they met. These present will look back upon the evening as one very pleasantly spent.

NEW YORK GIVES LEVIATHAN'S TROOPS LUSTIEST WELCOME YET

ULSTER COUNTIES ON LEVIATHAN

To Go To Merritt—Expected Relatives May Visit Them Sunday—Mayor's New York Committee To Meet Big Transport.

The committee appointed by Mayor Canfield consisting of former Kingstonians now in New York city, of which Joseph Drake is chairman, has been very active in looking after any Ulster county boys in New York.

The committee had made arrangements to visit the various hospitals, but now an order has been issued stopping visitations by committees. It is expected, however, that the army will open a headquarters where information can be obtained in relation to every soldier in any of the hospitals. This will permit the committee to keep track of Ulster county boys.

Chairman Drake reports that he found John C. Sparling of Co. I, 105th Infantry, at the base hospital at Grand Central Palace and that he had a long talk with him and that he is getting along nicely.

The New York city committee is also looking after and assisting in the return of the boys and will go down the bay with members of the home committee to meet the boats bringing the Ulster county boys back.

Many of the Kingston and Ulster county boys of the 27th Division are on the Leviathan, which docked at Hoboken today. It is expected that the Ulster county boys with others will be taken to Camp Merritt. They will not be permitted to be seen by their relatives today, Friday or Saturday. It is expected, however, that relatives will be able to visit them on Sunday. Further information about this will be given out later.

UNITS ARRIVING ON LEVIATHAN

Aboard the Leviathan with General O'Ryan came the headquarters troop, policing detachments; the 53rd infantry brigade headquarters, Brigadier-General Charles I. Debovoise; the 195th infantry complete, (old 2nd regiment and parts of the 12th and 71st), Colonel James M. Andrews; the 106th infantry complete (old 23rd regiment and parts of the 12th and 14th), Colonel F. W. Ward; the 107th infantry field and staff, first and second battalion headquarters, Companies A, B, C, D, E, F, G and H (old 7th regiment and parts of the 1st and 12th), Colonel Mortimer D. Bryant; the 105th machine gun battalion, headquarters, medical and ordnance detachments, Companies A, B, C and D (old squadron A and part of 1st cavalry), Major Stanton Whitney.

The appearance of the Leviathan in the lower bay was the signal for the beginning of the lustiest and most heartfelt welcome that has yet been accorded returning troops. The reception today was greater than that given to the fleet, which passed in review here recently, for the weather is ideal.

Mayor John F. Hyland and the members of the official welcoming committee boarded the Leviathan at quarantine. The ferryboats bearing the happy mothers, wives and sweethearts of the returning fighters circled around the long, gray bulk and then followed in her wake as she swept past the Statue of Liberty.

The bands of bands aboard the Leviathan and other craft were drowned out by the hysterical cheering that rolled across the water. The dough boys cheered and the spectators cheered. And then everybody cheered some more. The progress of the steamer up the Hudson could be followed by the rolling wave of cheering from the spectators on shore.

Battery park and buildings along the water front were black with people, and yet bright with flags and banners. New York turned out to make noise—to show her fighting sons that she is proud of them, and even the striking harbor beatmen caught the fever, for the boats which carried the relatives of the troops were exempted by the committee in charge of the harbor strike, and the operators volunteered their services in handling the craft.

The Mauretania, which was to have shared in the reception with the Leviathan, had been able to avoid the fog bank off Sandy Hook, has the 108th infantry complete, aboard. This is the old 3rd regiment and parts of the Twelfth and Seventy-fourth, Colonel Edgar S. Jennings; the 54th infantry brigade headquarters, Brigadier-General Palmer E. Pierce, and the 102nd train headquarters.

According to plans announced today, the returning troops will be placed in Camp Mills or Merritt after disembarking and will not be brought into New York until the day before the big parade, which is to mark the cent of the celebration of welcome about March 20.

It was announced at Adams' Department headquarters that shore leave is partly covered by insurance.

10,000 Sail Down Bay to Meet Returned 27th Division Heroes and Waterfront Black With Cheering Throngs—Mauretania Detained By Fog—Men Go to Merritt or Mills and Parade in New York about March 20th.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, March 6.—The vanguard of New York's own Twenty-seventh Division is back home today.

Loaded to the gunwales with 5,330 officers and men under the command of Major General John F. O'Ryan the giant transport Leviathan penetrated the fog banks off Sandy Hook at 9 o'clock this morning and steamed majestically up the bay, and thence to her Hoboken pier, where she docked at noon.

More members of the Twenty-seventh, nearly five thousand of them, are trailing in the wake of the Leviathan aboard the liner Mauretania. They are expected to arrive late this afternoon, having been beaten in a race with the former Hamburg-American and delayed by the fog.

New York, March 6.—Bringing back more than eight thousand heroes of the Twenty-seventh Division, "New York's Own," the giant transport Leviathan steamed majestically past Sandy Hook this morning and proceeded to quarantine.

The big liner won a spirited race into port with the transport Mauretania, and was ordered by wireless, to proceed past the "Hook." The Mauretania is wallowing in a fog bank and may be delayed many hours.

Aboard the Leviathan is Major General John F. O'Ryan, commander of the Twenty-seventh Division and his entire staff. The great liner brought back 5,330 officers and men in all—brought them back to a welcome the like of which New York has never witnessed before and may never see again.

Crowds Gather Early.

Long before the gray bulk of the big transport loomed up in the lower bay a great crowd began to gather in Battery park. Thousands lined the wharves at the Battery and extra reserves were called out to handle the crowds.

Ten thousand mothers, fathers, wives, sisters and sweethearts of the returning fighters sailed down the bay to meet the big liner. The relatives of the soldiers were carried by the ferryboats Richmond, Queens, Manhattan, Gowanus and Mayor Gaylor and by the steamboats Correction and Equinox.

The mayor's committee of welcome met the Leviathan first, proceeding to quarantine aboard the police boat Patrol. The tug Fidelity carried the aldermanic committee.

PLAN KINGSTON ATHLETIC FIELD

Prospects Look Brighter for Long-Discussed Place for Races and Sports—Merchants and Horsemen Getting Behind Scheme.

Kingston may have an athletic field, the site of which will be selected from one of the three now under observation by a number of local merchants. If the present plans materialize the field will be equipped with proper grounds for baseball, football, cirques, carnivals and by the active co-operation that has been offered by the Ulster County Horsemen's Association there may be a half mile circular track for horse racing.

The project is well under way and the merchants have a large subscription list of those who have pledged themselves behind the scheme and with the horsemen's interest Kingstonians may once more have a chance to witness some fast trotters in action as they did in the days of yore on the old track on Manor avenue, now owned by F. G. Schmidt.

One of the sites that have been attracting the attention of the promoters is located back of Bethany Chapel at the foot of North Front street in Hightstown. With one drain pipe this location could be made ideal but it is understood that the other sites have advantages to be considered.

Some time ago this business plan was considered by many a vision but now the increased interest and enthusiasm of the merchants and the horse men is developing it into a possible accomplishment for the betterment of Kingston. The city needs just such a resort for outdoor sports and the horse racing plan is meeting with great approval by everyone. Kingston used to promote some fast stock on the old track in this city and the city is full of lovers of fast horses who would welcome more racing with open arms.

There will be a meeting held some time next week of the interested merchants and individuals to further discuss the plan and its development. It is hoped that some definite action will be made public after this meeting.

A box of oranges

one of the world's richest men, was the son of a poor Scotch weaver. He early learned the advantages of economy. At the age of ten he saved a few shillings—enough to buy a box of oranges—which he promptly peddled at a profit of 100 per cent.

At twelve he was brought to America and put to work in a mill. His earnings were 20 cents a day.

While still a young man he managed through thrift to accumulate $500, which he invested. His first dividend served as the inspiration for his remarkable achievements and financial power in later years.

But the seed of his prosperity was first sown when he invested the few shillings he had saved—in a box of oranges.

There are boxes of oranges all about us today—only they go under a different name. Wise men see them—invest, and reap the profits in success.

There are men—and women too—who sense the possibilities of small beginnings, even as Carnegie.

HIGHLAND.

Highland, March 6.—Wednesday evening was the regular meeting of the Daughters of America. There was a very large membership present. They balloted upon candidates, also received petitions of some eligible for membership. The councilor appointed investigating committees to report at next session. Joining an order that has in connection with a benefit is not a sacrifice of time and may be the means of benefiting yourself and family and will give one a pleasing sense of satisfaction that you have done something for others and for the order. The meetings bring members together, develop friendships and excite curiosity among outsiders who ultimately become members. From having learned of the order and seen its social work after work there is always something to amuse. On Wednesday evening they invited guests and held a "Measuring Social" which created loads of sport. Committees did the work. Prizes were given for largest waist measurement, also smallest. We did not learn who the lucky ones were. Every person was tagged with the colors of the order. Mrs. Kelsey Staples was the pianist of the evening and dancing and games were enjoyed. From close of business until late there was ceaseless bustle everywhere. There was the clicking of money and scurrying of women and men with tape measures and tags for the enjoyment of all. At a late hour the committee served fine refreshments. All the arrangements were complete and most perfectly carried out. Well deserved commendations were showered upon the executive committee and able assistants who were indefatigable in their efforts to ensure the pleasantness of the occasion. We hope to learn who the successful contestants were by the next issue.

George H. Fowler of Great Neck, Long Island, is spending some time with his sisters-in-law, Mrs. J. S. Mack and Mrs. Jane Seymour, at Hillair.

Last Tuesday evening week the J. O. U. A. M. of this place gave a reception in their lodge room to their wives and D. of A. The rain came down in torrents and of course prevented some from going out, yet with all that there were over 100 present. The D. of A. and other guests entered in a body and were welcomed by the councilor of the Juniors and at that time Mrs. R. H. Decker, the councilor of the D. of A., was invited to the east and gave remarks for the good of the order which were highly appreciated. After disbanding the people played games, enjoyed visiting and as the Juniors had hired J. W. Feeter's Hall for dancing it was then evident fun had commenced and everyone seemed to enjoy either square dancing or fancy steps. A very bountiful luncheon was served to which every one did ample justice and in the early morning hours all departed for their respective homes expressing their pleasure to the Junior Order for their hospitality, and it was evident the spirit of fraternity was in their makeup and if more members would put the spirit in practice the effect would be a revelation to them. Just try it.

Mrs. J. S. Mack has several guests at the famous resort "Hillair."

Mr. and Mrs. George Wiggins of Poughkeepsie were guests of Mrs. George Main last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Constable and Mrs. Russell Fisher were taken in the M. E. Church Sunday morning by letter, also Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Reynolds and Fannie Kurtz in full membership.

Sunday evening at the M. E. Church Raymond Miller of Ohioville gave very interesting remarks in regard to his trip to France and the hardships endured by our boys while there. All is not gold that glitters and all is not pleasant in war. The church was filled with an appreciative audience.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Schoonmaker and children were guests last Sunday of Mr. Schoonmaker's parents in New Faltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Miller of Poughkeepsie were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Terpening on Washington avenue.

Last Friday evening in the M. E. Sunday school room, S. T. Jennings, of the high school faculty, gave a very interesting lecture on "Ten Weeks in the Land of Cactus." It was for a benefit for the Missionary Society and they realized a nice sum. After the lecture punch and cake were served and a nice social enjoyed at the time of refreshments.

The Queen Esther Circle was entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Clark on White street. They had a good number of members present and a fine time.

We hear the Clark family is going to make Poughkeepsie their home and will soon leave here. The Queen Esther people are sorry for that home.

Games and music were indulged in the occasion. We hope to learn who the successful contestants were by the next issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Wert had guests Sunday from Poughkeepsie.

George Fowler's family will leave Main street, where they have resided for some time, and move in the Adams house on Brinckerhoff avenue.

Mrs. Daniel Kurtz and daughter, Fannie, have both been ill and under the care of Dr. Preston. Glad to report they are now all right again and able to go out.

Several from here attended the dance at Milton last Friday evening. They report a jolly time.

Mrs. George Van Aken of Poughkeepsie was week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Evert on Maple avenue.

J. B. Moule, William Perkins and Mr. Stewart and R. H. Decker were in Poughkeepsie on business Monday.

Gedney Mackay of Milton was in town on Monday.

The body of Miss Laura Westcott of Beacon was brought here Wednesday for burial. She at one time resided in this place. She is survived by several sisters. There was a short service at the grave. Undertaker

"Wild Life"

Matinee 2-30-15c. Evening 7:15 and 9-15c-20c. Including War Tax.

(Exact copy of letter sent to District Attorney Edward Swann of New York.)

"Dear Mr. District Attorney— May we publicly take advantage to convey to you our sincere thanks for the splendid work done by your direction, on the part of the police department and your own subordinates in breaking up the 'gangs' of ticket speculators who had become such a public nuisance in front of the Forty-fourth Street Theater selling tickets for D. W. Griffith's 'Hearts of the World.'"

"These speculators by devious tricks had secured certain tickets which they were selling at $3, $4 and even $5 each, to the public anxious to see Mr. Griffith's latest achievement."

"The moment these 'gangs' got wind of the order from your department they faded away into oblivion. Today the public can go to the box office of the theater without being pestered by these gentry who block the streets."

"As managers of Mr. Griffith's 'Hearts of the World,' and for the patrons who wish to see it, we desire to publicly thank you and the police department for all that you have done in the interests of the public."

$5 a seat

Not for one night, not for one seat, but time after time patrons who were unable to secure tickets at the box office, voluntarily paid as high as $5.00, the excessive price demanded for choice seats by ticket speculators who realized in advance the tremendous success D. W. Griffith's "Hearts of the World."

"CARUSO NIGHT" at the famous Metropolitan Opera House never drew greater crowds than those attracted to this masterpiece.

Never in the history of the theatre has anything created such an absolute and complete sensation as Mr. Griffith's latest and greatest achievement, requiring more than eighteen months in the making.

The foremost critics in the United States and Europe have proclaimed it a greater production than Mr. Griffith's former triumph, "THE BIRTH OF A NATION."

That is why you are urged to send your mail orders, with remittance, immediately to the box office of the Kingston Opera House, where this magnificent spectacle will be shown for two days, beginning next Wednesday, with a matinee each day.

"The vast audience was literally swept out of their seats by the enthusiasm and excitement to which they had been carried, giving D. W. Griffith, the wizard of the theatre, an ovation passing in fervor and sound anything ever known in our theatre annals."

Has No Street Sign.
How many residents of Kingston know of hand where Delta Place is located? Even if they had a general idea as to where the street was it would be somewhat difficult to locate it as for the past five years no street sign has been placed on the street. Delta Place is a short street off Linderman avenue. The residents on that street are trusting that they will not have to wait another five years before a street sign is erected.

SERIES OF FARM BUREAU MEETINGS

Prof. Boutelle Lecturing in County on Dairy Subjects—Experts on Fruit Pests to be Present at Next Week's Meetings.

With the opening of the spring the Farm Bureau of Ulster county has arranged for several interesting community meetings to be held in the various villages and towns throughout the county during the next two weeks. Professor C. A. Boutelle, of the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University, Ithaca, is making a tour of the county delivering helpful and inspiring lectures on "The Selection of Dairy Feeds," and the breeding of dairy cattle. Next week a series of meetings will be held in the fruit section of the southern part of the county. Prof. C. R. Crosby will represent the state college at these meetings.

Prof. Boutelle, who is a successful dairyman of Otsego county, will speak at the community meeting to be held in the town hall at Kerhonkson, Friday, March 7, at 8 o'clock. The Dairy League and Farm Bureau will co-operate in the success of this meeting. The first part of the short session at Kerhonkson Friday evening will be conducted by the Dairy League, after which the Farm Bureau will take charge and open a discussion for all of those present. Mr. Boutelle is a recognized authority in the dairy business and has been heard with interest in many towns of the county during the past week. Soil management and fertility will also be discussed at this meeting.

On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock a stable meeting will be held on the farm of Chester Young at Napanoch and it is hoped that Ellenville and the surrounding towns will be largely represented.

Professor Crosby, the entomology extension specialist, will open his meetings for the fruit section at Plattekill next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock he will speak at the Grange Hall in Clintonville. Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Highland and at 7:30 in the evening of the same day in Community Hall in Milton. Thursday evening at 7:30 in Odd Fellows' Hall in Ulster Park and in the Flatbush Church at Flatbush at the same time on Friday evening. In the course of these meetings Professor Crosby will speak on the control of the apple red bug and the maggot or railroad worm, aphids and pear psylla. Following the discussions on the control of these pests question boxes will be conducted covering the control of other insect pests.

REALTY NOTES.

Paradise, the Railroad Avenue Broker, Finds Market Active.

Among sales and transactions that have taken place the past several days is the sale of the Jonathan Helyea homestead farm, with all its stock and equipments located at Flatbush, which was purchased about two years ago by Edward Reuter and wife, has been sold to Philip F. and Henry Linker, of 378 Sandol street, Brooklyn, N. Y. Linker Brothers are large contractors in Brooklyn, and are about to install in the newly purchased property a great many improvements. It is considered one of the best Hudson river fruit farms of 75 acres in the valley. Mr. and Mrs. Reuter will move to Brooklyn, N. Y. They will be greatly missed in the community, as for the past two years they have made a host of friends. Philip F. Linker occupies the farm at present, and will come here on his honeymoon.

Richard Muller of 3203 Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y., has sold his home and farm on the Tilton and Springtown road to Mrs. Catherine Devendorf of Utica, N. Y. The property consists of a large 12 room dwelling with all city improvements. In the near future Mrs. Devendorf, who for a number of years has conducted a large sanitarium and will convert this property into the same.

One of the most historical buildings that lies in the New Paltz district along the Walkkill river, and formerly the home of the late Silas Freer, which was willed to Jane Deyo and daughter, Lula Deyo, has been sold to John L. Mouskey and wife of 163 Southern Boulevard, Bronx, N. Y. The property consists of an old stone house, and about 20 acres, the house was erected about 105 years ago. Mr. Mouskey who has been serving in the navy, will occupy it and greatly improve the property, so as to make it one of the finest along the Walkkill stream.

Emil Planchon of 464 Ninth avenue, New York city, who is the owner of a farm and dwelling located on the New Paltz and Tilton road, has leased the property for a term of years to A. Baldwin, of 940 Simpson street, Bronx, N. Y.

Mrs. Mary Mooney of Eddyville has leased her property completely furnished to Mrs. Rose Moskowitz of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. M. Rohrbacher of 102 West Sixty-first street, New York city, has leased the Tompkins cottage at Fleischmanns, Delaware county, New York.

Activity in real estate among New York parties as represented by Mr. Paradise, they are seeking homes on farms as it gives them a chance to defray high cost of living by raising their own provisions. They seek properties in the Hudson, Walkkill and Rondout valleys, which is evident that the three valleys are considered the most productive valleys in the state of New York.

Supreme Court Meets March 17—Grand Jury to Report Then.

As the three cases placed on the day calendar of the supreme court, Wednesday, will not be ready to be tried on Monday, March 10, the court will not reconvene until Monday, March 17, at 2 p. m. Before dismissing the complaint in the action of Krstovic vs. Van Buren, Wednesday at noon, Justice Rudd discharged the jury in the box and the other jurors until 2 p. m. They came back into the court room at that hour and Clerk Loughran, who had investigated the condition of the calendar by request of the court as to the possibility of any cases being ready on March 10 and finding the attorneys ready to put their cases over to the third week, discharged all the jurors until March 17, as per instruction given by Justice Rudd, who had left for Albany, the court to reconvene at 2 p. m. on that date. Nos. 120 inquest, 115, 48 and 50 are reported as being ready to be tried in the third week. It is expected the grand jury will have completed its work by that time and report its findings.

PLUTARCH.

Plutarch, March 5.—The roads in this section are in a pretty bad condition. It seems too bad to have so much stone and our town owning a stone crusher to have to drive through so much mud. If there was a lot of stone crushed the farmers would be willing to draw them in where needed free of charge and now is the time to do it. It is time the taxpayers woke up and get something going.

To Pay For Referee's Work.

On taking up the referee's report, Winston and Company paid the referee's fees and his disbursements, which amounted to $5,082.12. Lecky did not pay anything. Lecky's counsel claimed that the referee should pass upon the disputed questions arising upon the formation of the case on appeal without further compensation. Judge Clearwater claimed that the referee was entitled to be paid for this work. The referee was of this view, whereupon Lecky's attorneys moved before Judge Morton-schauer to vacate the referee's report, and to set aside the judgment entered upon it upon the ground of the misconduct of the referee. The matter was argued before Judge Morton-schauer in Poughkeepsie in March, 1918, and he denied the motion. An appeal was taken by Lecky to the appellate division, where it was argued.

DIMICK ESTATE ACCOUNTING

Not an Adjudication As To Unsold Real Estate Rights.

The annual accounting of Frederick C. Duncan and Ralph Voorhis as trustees of the last will and testament of Jeremiah W. Dimick of Rifton, came up before Surrogate Gill on Tuesday. John H. Hilliard of New York appearing for the trustees; Judge Clearwater for Altha Covey Dimick, the widow; Judge John C. Van Etten for Harcourt Dimick, a residuary legatee, and Judge Stephan as special guardian for the infant remaindermen. Judge Clearwater suggested that a clause be added to the proposed decree specifically stating that it was in no way an adjudication as to the rights of Mrs. Dimick in the unsold real estate in the hands of the trustees. After some discussion this clause was inserted by the surrogate. The trustees have sold the mill property and the Dashville Falls to a power company which proposed to develop the electric energy at Rifton on a large scale. They had arranged to begin work when our government entered the war, which held them up.
